Committee member Riggs asked whether the board will use STAR for the tools or for certification. Chairperson Koss responded that initial use will be the tools. The certification can be decided at a later date.

Chairperson Koss presented the STAR Resiliency Guide. The program provided instructions for incorporating the Sustainability and Resiliency Guides.

Committee member Hushla inquired whether the Palm Bay used the STAR program for their sustainability plan. Chairperson Koss replied that Palm Bay did use the program and that they are certified with three (3) stars.

Ms. Hamilton introduced Robert Loring, a new planner with the Planning and Zoning Division. He is former employee of the City of Palm Bay.

Mr. Loring replied that they were obtaining certification. Committee member Hushla inquired whether they also have a sustainability plan. Mr. Loring stated that Palm Bay does have goals and objectives in conjunction with the comprehensive plan.

Committee member Hushla noted that the STAR program will work for the committee since there no comparisons to provide a gap analysis.

Committee member Riggs recommends using STAR as a tool for the committee to map items that the City has implemented and make adjustments as needed. Committee member Weiss agrees that the STAR program should be implemented as a guide for the sustainability plan.

2. Demographic Background-Vice Chairperson Gilliam:

Vice Chairperson Gilliam provided a presentation on the demographic background for the City of Cocoa. She discussed current and projected population numbers; provided statistics on education, employment, and poverty levels; and home ownership. The City has a GINI index of .52.

Chairperson Koss noted that the City is at a 40% poverty level and a good sustainability and resiliency plan will address those concerns. Vice Chairperson Gilliam added that the STAR program includes modules for education, employment, and economy.

Ms. Hamilton suggested that the committee look into ALICE as a resource for inequity trends.

IV. DEVELOPMENT OF SUSTAINABILITY AND RESILIENCY PLAN WORKPLAN AND TIMELINE:

- Discussion of model sustainability plans and desired outcome for Cocoa's Plan:

Ms. Hamilton discussed the expectations for the sustainability and resiliency plan. She noted that the comprehensive plan talks about areas of focus such as low income neighborhoods. These are areas that the City feels confident to accomplish in relation to time and cost.

Ms. Hamilton noted that the STAR program is a good tool for benchmarking aspects. There may be other sustainability plans that the committee would like to use.

Committee member Shim stated that the strategic plan will be helpful in conducting a gap analysis.

Committee member Riggs recommended that the board match up STAR to the comprehensive and resolution plan to identify areas that the City needs improvements. Committee member Weiss suggested that the board identify and focus on areas they are passionate about.

Vice Chairperson requested that the public speak on the next steps for the board.

Paul Johnson stated that it is logical for the committee to rank areas of importance for City Council to implement first.

Committee member Musser suggested that the board compare the sustainability policies and resolution with the STAR program. Committee member Riggs summarized the board recommendations as map the resolution to STAR, identify areas of interest, and map the strategic plan to STAR.

- Discussion of presentations needed to develop the plan

Ms. Hamilton stated that the City is in budget season and that the departments will not be available for presentations until October 2018.
